

McKinsey Base Camp

Last chance to prepare for your climb to the top

McKinsey & Company is delighted to invite students in their final stages of studies (3rd year or later) to an overnight camp, where you will have the chance to get answers to all your questions regarding top management consulting as a career option and McKinsey as an employer.

The Base Camp is a combination of intimate discussions, engaging consulting team work, celebration and energetic activities in a location outside of Helsinki. Your mountain sherpas include our alumnus Antti Vasara, who is currently Senior Vice President and General Manager of Nokia, and our consultants from Helsinki office.

When: April 4-5, 2008

Where: Bus departs from Mannerheimintie 14 A at 11:30
Bus returns to same location at 16:00 on Apr 5

To join the camp, please send your information through www.mckinsey.com/helsinkievents1 by Monday, March 17, 2008.

Please attach your CV and study transcript to the registration form. As the seats are limited, we will confirm the participation latest on March 20.
